SIGNOR AT ROTARY

Mr. James J. Hammon, speaker for Rotary Club luncheon yesterday, discussed the changes already made in the current Ecumenical Council and predicted more change in the Roman Catholic Church in the next 10 years than in the last 10. He stressed the progress made in better relations between Christians of different faiths.

OUT FOR SPACE

The digitized Southern Bell system has assigned 688 as the change for telephones at SA's Mississippi Test Operations which in our parlance means prefix must be CUT, short Outer Space.

ABANDONED TRAILER

An empty, abandoned trailer was picked up last week on U.S. 90 and is being stored at the Service Station, Chief of Police Gerald Price, Jr., noted. The cab bears the name of J. Truck Service, Valley, Ala., and license 28T7 263. Price said after a preliminary check both appeared fictitious. Several articles of clothing were found in the cab and matter is still under investigation, he said.

DIRECTION

Howard Langitt who presented awards at the state Jaycee meeting here Nov. 23 is executive manager of the Electric Power Association of Mississippi. He erroneously identified in last week's issue as a representative of Mississippi Power Co.

TO APPOINTED

City Commission Council today appointed John Kachler assistant police chief, effective Jan. 1, and named Leroy Cosch relief fireman.

HERAN CIRCLE MEETS

Election of officers, the early part and plans for special Christmas and New Year services will occupy the women's circle of Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity when it meets at the home of Mrs. Carl Bielestein, 2111 W. Lane, Waveland, at 1 p.m. today. Any Lutheran women in the community are invited.

SCUSS OYSTER JARS

A new state health department regulation prohibiting the use of screw-type jars in packing oysters for retail sale will be the subject of a preliminary meeting between Marine Conservation Commission members and oyster dealers, Packers' Association and Joseph V. Collins of Waveland was appointed to work with chairman George Humble on a committee to handle a discussion with the health department if necessary.

TEK TOYS FOR NEEDY

Joyce is seeking used toys to repair on Christmas presents for children of needy families. Mrs. John Lovens, charity chairman, announces. She urged anyone who can contribute to her promptly at HO7-7426. Articles can be picked up and delivered in time for Santa Claus.

IT'S GETTING TO BE THAT TIME - Preparations for Santa Claus get under way as Mississippi Power Co. employee Mike Necaise, on scaffold, and James F. Williams of Coast Electric Power Assn., on sidewalk, connect downtown Christmas lights. Observing is city patrolman William Carbone. Santa officially arrives at 2 p.m. Saturday at the toll bridge and will parade through downtown before setting up headquarters at Kern's.

Necaise plan would redistrict Beats 2, 4

A proposal to revise boundary lines of Beats 2 and 4 in the north part of Hancock County was advanced to the board of supervisors Monday by Supervisor James Necaise of No. 4 as a solution to redistricting demands but action was deferred until the new Beat 2 supervisor, Dolph Keller, takes office Jan. 6.

Necaise, who has been complaining for some time about road maintenance costs because of the size of his beat, proposed to take in the small portion of Beat 2 now remaining outside NASA's Mississippi Test Operations and creation of a new Beat 2 from one section south of Pearl River County at the Pearl River western border to include Kiln and points to the east. Beat 3, also in the northern county, would remain as is and Necaise suggested that Beats 1 and 5 along the coast work out new boundaries to the satisfaction of those two supervisors.

Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, Jr., of populous Beat 5 objected that redistricting now would amount to "lame duck legislation" since only one month remains before Keller takes office, saying he felt the new Beat 2 member should have a voice in the decision. He added the present board already had voted four years to act.

Hubbard also expressed doubt that Necaise's plan would meet the equal representation argument raised by some of his constituents whose demands for redistricting are now pending before the U. S. Supreme Court after being denied in state courts. The coastal section needs another beat rather than the sparsely populated northern county, he argued. He also took the position that unless some money is forthcoming from the federal government for the roads taken over

A referendum on a proposed $350,000 bond issue sought by the county board of education to finance three major construction projects was approved by the board of supervisors Monday.

No date, however, was set for the election in which three-fifths of those voting must cast affirmative ballots in order for the issue to carry.

School trustees told the supervisors the bond plan evolved from a day-long conference with T. H. Naylor, Jr., executive secretary of the State Education Finance Commission, and two members of that commission on Nov. 23 in an effort to cope with enrollment increases resulting and anticipated from NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

The school resolution, presented to the supervisors by Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the school board, anticipates the county system will get between $150,000 and $200,000 from NASA for condemnation of the old Logtown Elementary School which is in the test site buffer zone and is to be closed next spring. This sum, along with a maximum of $350,000 raised locally, should be sufficient to finance the three jobs, Phillips said.

The proposed projects include a new elementary school at Pearl River to replace the Logtown plant, consisting of eight classrooms, cafeteria, gymnasium and related needs; at Gulfview to meet growing enrollment eight new classrooms, cafeteria, renovation of the existing gymnasium and general repairs, plus purchase of more land for expansion and at Hancock North Central High School four new classrooms (in addition to the four just completed), a bus shop, landscaping and repairs to the five-year-old building.

At the request of Beat 1 Supervisor H. G. Dean that the proposed sum be spent at each location be designated, Phillips put the figure at $180,000 for Pearl River, $175,000 for Gulfview and $100,000 for HNC. Lucien M. Gex, attorney for the board of supervisors, said this designation was not necessary but would eliminate an objectionable feature in the minds of the voters.

Beat 5 School Trustees E. P. Orte noted the school board was acting on the advice of the State Education Finance Commission and indicated that body had already checked as to whether additional bonded indebtedness within the 15 per cent limit of the county system's assessment valuation. The system still has a bond issue outstanding on Hancock North Central's original construction.

Negro plant intended, board says

The county board of education at a special meeting last Saturday adopted a resolution declaring its intention to build a new school for Negro pupils in the county district as soon as practicable and when enrollment would meet state building requirements.

This followed the board's action at a meeting the previous Saturday calling on the board of supervisors to issue $350,000 worth of bonds for three other construction projects. Trustee E. P. Orte said the board explored all possibilities of providing a Negro elementary school in consultation with state officials but could not meet enrollment requirements.

Both Saturday sessions of the board were unscheduled. Superintendent K. G. McCarty told the Echo on Nov. 22 he had not heard from State Education Finance Commission representatives about a special meeting and the board would not convene again until Dec. 2. Subsequently Orte said he prevailed upon the state men that local problems needed

Waveland adopts subdivision rules

Regulations governing the subdivision of land located in Waveland into two or more sections were adopted by Waveland Town Council Tuesday night as proposed by the town's planning commission.

The new law, which takes effect in 30 days, prohibits the filing of a subdivision plat in chancery court until its terms, including approval by the planning commission, are complied with. At the public hearing on the proposed ordinance Oct. 24 only two persons appeared in opposition. Almost two years ago Bay St. Louis adopted similar regulations.

In another action affecting property development C. O. Dufour was appointed administrative officer under the zoning ordinance by Mayor Garfield Ladner and approved by the Board of Aldermen. In this capacity Dufour will approve applications for building permits when the proposed structure meets the requirements of the law and will be responsible for enforcement of the zoning laws.

The mayor and board of aldermen also approved payment to Magnolia Construction Co. of $14,586.28 for work completed on the water distribution system and of $182.52 to Bernard and Burk of Mississippi, engineers for the project. T. L. Van Posen, resident engineer, estimated that nearly 98 per cent of the work on the $150,000 project is completed and that it should be in operation early next year.

The board also committed itself to accept the dedication to the town of a street by Capt. and Mrs. William H. Johns if they properly pave it over through the town. 30 feet, does not meet the 50 foot requirement of the subdivision ordinance subsequently passed. The mayor and aldermen reasoned that the Johns were al-

Clermont school is reopened

The old Clermont Harbor School building, occupied for the last four years as the Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center, was reopened Monday as a school to house the second and third grades from the overcrowded Gulfview attendance center at Lakeshore.

Gulfview Principal Oren Seal said the reopening was directed last week by Beat 5 School Trustee E. P. Orte after repeated complaints over conducting one class at Gulfview in the corridor with no heating facilities. The butane gas tank was filled, additional lights and a telephone were installed and desks were moved to accommodate the 30-pupil second grade taught by Sue Osburn and the 22-pupil third grade of Mrs. Virginia Hagen. Enrollment at Gulfview Monday was 205 compared to about 170 at the close of the 1962-63 session.

School buses serving Gulfview now stop at the Lakeshore plant first in the morning, then continue on to Clermont to drop off those pupils. A bus also picks up the Clermont pupils at 10:45 a.m. each day to go to lunch at Gulfview on the early shift while those students in the Lakeshore building eat on a different shift at 11:30 a.m.

Seal said he had planned to ask the county board of education for an additional teacher Monday afternoon but the board changed its meeting time until morning. The principal explained he continued to teach five classes a day in addition to his administrative duties and the latter have increased considerably with the growth in enrollment.

Coast Electric sends operating surplus refunds

More than 4,000 families in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties served by Coast Electric Power Assn. will get checks this week representing that portion of their electric bill not needed for current operating expenses in 1962 and 1963.

The checks total $67,324.29 and range from less than $1 to over $700, according to H. H. Shattuck, manager of the electric co-op. "I know of no more graphic illustration that could be given of Coast Electric's slogan 'Owned by Those It Serves,'" (Cont. on Page 4.)

Bishop due to dedicate St. Clare's, Kiln School

Two new Catholic buildings in Hancock County will be dedicated Sunday by Bishop Richard O. Gerow of the Natchez-Jackson Diocese. At 11 a.m. he will take part in ceremonies for Annunciation Parish's school at Kiln and at 4 p.m. he will celebrate solemn pontifical mass in the new sanctuary of St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland.

At Kiln an open house will follow services in the gymnasium with refreshments served by the newly formed Annunciation Parent-Teacher Assn.

Rev. Mallory Dugan, pastor, announced that masses for this Sunday only will be changed to 6 and 7:30 a.m. at Kiln and White Cypress and 9 a.m. at Fenton and Rocky Hill.

Also participating will be the Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree Honor Guard who will present Bishop Gerow two chorists, one in the name of Harry Lynch and one for J. T. McCaleb. It is a tradition to present the Bishop with a chorium following the death of an Honor Guard member.

The school, which opened in September, is being renovated. (Cont. on Page 4.)

Bay Post office girds for Yule

It's getting to be Christmas time again. Starting Dec. 14 the Bay St. Louis Postoffice will remain open until 5 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays to handle the rush. Postmaster Andy J. Becker announced. Only the money order window will be closed. During the postoffice will stay open Dec. 14, 18 and 21.

Becker said business has been normal so far but he expects the rush to start Monday and indications are this will be the biggest year of all time.

Director outlines plans

Schedule skeeter war

"We hope to start killing mosquitoes in the spring," Chris Elmore, who takes over Jan. 1 as the first mosquito control director for the three coastal counties, told the Hancock County board of supervisors Tuesday morning.

Elmore explained, however, that during the first year organization and learning the local mosquito problem would take precedence, and that equipment and supplies would have to be acquired before a basically balanced program of control could be undertaken. He said he proposed a three-way attack: Elimination of breeding places through draining or flooding; treatment of marsh areas with chemicals; and fogging for adult mosquitoes.

To Supervisor President R. G. Hubbard's question of whether planes would be used the biologist replied that possibly planes under contract would be used to distribute pellet type chemical material on inaccessible areas but not for fogging. Fogging, which kills adult mosquitoes, he said was the "least effective and most expensive" method of control and he had to operate on a $120,000 budget for the three counties.

F. P. Ansler, chairman of the Harrison County Mosquito Control Commission who attended the meeting along with Leo W. Seal, Jr., Hancock County chairman, answered Hubbard's question on what help to expect from NASA by "they put nothing in writing but say we'll get a lot". He also said B. U. Jess, community relations chief at MTO, had told him "tell the board we have set up a mosquito commission and will work with you".

Hubbard also wanted to know whether St. Tammany Parish, La., contiguous to Hancock County, had a mosquito control program and if it would let Elmore's organization work in the marshes next to Hancock County. Ansler replied that "you can't in Bay St. Louis during the Thanksgiving weekend. Both accidents involved a passenger car and a trailer truck and both truck drivers were Mobile, Ala., residents. They were the sixth and seventh highway fatalities of 1963.

Dead are Mrs. Oscar Bragg, 64, of Dunbar Avenue, who died Tuesday morning from injuries received in an accident Saturday and Benjamin Franklin King, 75, of Long Beach who died following a head-on collision Thanksgiving morning. King's death was attributed to a rupture of the left lung and heart failure because of shock.

State Patrolman Frank Blanton said Mrs. Bragg was traveling south on North Second Street and the trailer-truck, driven by Terry Lovett, Jr., 29, 702 St. Anthony St., Mobile, was going west on U. S. 90 when the accident occurred when the Bragg car ran into the side of the truck behind the cab.

Mrs. Bragg was taken to Hancock General Hospital suffering from severe head lacerations and later transverse injuries and later transferred to Ochsner Foundation Hospital at New Orleans. The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. Saturday and death came at 4:25 a.m. Tuesday.

The King accident occurred at 3:15 a.m. Thursday and he was pronounced dead at Hancock General Hospital at 7 a.m.

Patrolman Donald Pope said King was riding in a car driven by William Skelton, 37, of Long Beach when it crashed into the trailer-truck driven by Charles Downing, 43, 154 Palm Dr., Mobile. Skelton received emergency treatment at the hospital for cuts and bruises and released. Remble, his son, who was also a passenger was not injured.

Relatives said the trio were going deer hunting when the car, traveling west, skidded where the four-lane section of the highway narrows into two lanes. Pope said Downing saw the skidding car and stopped his truck but the Skelton

Bleating again

For two years the Hancock County Board of Supervisors has promised a more equitable distributing of the county. Attorney Lucien Gex, representing Supervisors James Necaise, Beat 4, H. G. Dean, Beat 1, Charles Lavinghouse, Beat 3, and J. M. Friterson, Beat 2, in the redistricting suit said they would. This week Necaise came up with the proposal, formal action on which was postponed because of Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard's opposition, since to pass all five supervisors must vote yes.

Disregarding for the moment the 125,000 acres in MTO which soon will be uninhabitable, the plan simply adds the three plus habitable sections remaining of Beat 4, splits Beat 4 east and west approximately two miles north of Kiln and designates the north half Beat 4 and the south half Beat 2. From Necaise's standpoint the advantage to the proposal is obvious. In both primaries this year he lost the Kiln box and he wants no part of those people. This way he loses them and also a major opponent for supervisor, Jack Lott. Except for that personal advantage to Necaise there is nothing but gross impertinence and almost dishonesty to the suggestion.

The supervisors, including Necaise, and their attorney have been bleating they would redistrict the county more equitably according to population. This noise has come in opposition to doing anything then when two years ago the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce formally requested more equitable redistricting because one beat, Beat 5, already had two-thirds of the county's population, paid three-fourth of the taxes and had only one-fifth of the vote. Nine months ago it was officially used in opposition to a redistricting suit seeking redistricting on a more equitable basis of population as required by state and federal law.

Now, with the disparity getting worse, comes the long awaited proposal. It would make two beats of one already over-represented period.

Those who up to now have been backing the redistricting suit will meet Friday night at 7:30 in the Sea Coast Echo's office. All interested in continuing this fight will be most welcome.

January and February, the board considered need for more room in the Courthouse, particularly for Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis who is now using the rear of the vault. On Tuesday the board voted to move the office of superintendent of education out of the Courthouse and into the Agricultural Center on Necaise Avenue, discharging on carrier idea the superintendent could use some space in the old hospital building on Carroll Avenue. Monday Hubbard had suggested the board go ahead and finance an extension of the Courthouse to the east with all the other capital projects upcoming but at that time got no support, although on Tuesday he, and Dean said the move of the education office is until the addition is built.

Meanwhile Lucien M. Gex, attorney for the board, expressed the view the proposed $175,000 hospital bond issue can be carried for the next three to four years without levying an additional mill since the balance in the old bond issue fund is adequate. Hubbard said he believed the board could take some money from the hospital operating fund and construct the proposed addition without any extra burden on the taxpayer. The board meets at 9 a.m. next Monday to hear any petitions opposing its intention to sell bonds up to $175,000 to match a federal grant for expansion of Hancock General Hospital.

During Monday's busy meeting supervisors also directed advertising for bids on Jan. 6 for supplies for the year along with a grader for Beat 3, a front end loader, a grader with attachments and sweeper broom for the seawall and a front end loader for Beat 1, along with bids for sale of several pieces of old equipment and on Tuesday for spower chain saw for Beat 4.

A $100 contribution from the advertising fund toward the Christmas lighting program was approved on the request of Johnna Carver; an amount for $1,933 to Mississippi Power Co. for 15 acres in the 15-4-16 in Beat 1 for re-forestation of land near water and a contribution was accepted of $1,000 from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce for the same purpose. V. J. Friterson was named as the person to receive the money.

Fight L&N stopping commuter

Both Hancock County municipalities this week want a record opposing the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co.'s application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue operation of its passenger trains 9 and 12, which operate between Pass Christian and New Orleans. Similar action had already been taken by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

In their resolutions which were sent to the ICC both municipalities cite the great industrial growth taking place east of New Orleans as well as the construction of MTO in Hancock County as pointing to a tremendous industrial potential and population expansion in their area. Discontinuance of the commuter trains, the towns contend, will not only create a hardship on those who have been using them for years but will seriously curtail development of this area. The resolutions also express the belief that the two trains would be used extensively by those working at Michoud if they made a stop there, something the railway has refused to test.

Copies of the resolutions were sent to the railroad, the Mississippi Public Service Commission and the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

School bond ...

Ortiz added that the school trustees intended to take full advantage of any state or federal aid that might come their way and perhaps only $150,000 in bonds would be issued.

James Necaise, Beat 4 member of the board of supervisors, inquired if the four classrooms proposed at North Central were the four just completed but Phillips explained that construction was financed substantially from per capita building funds of the state.

Dean had requested the supervisors Nov. 12 that the school board be asked to appear Dec. 2 and quell out the building situation on a favor brewed between parents in the Loggova and Gulfview districts over the impact from MTO. Viewing the short time left for the Loggova School to continue in operation he moved Monday that the school board request for the bond election be approved.

Apparently as a result of this ultimatum, Trustees Ortiz arranged with Naylor to consult with the school board on the county picture. Accompanying him on the trip here Nov. 23 were Dr. Otto Messer, commissioner from the 4th District, and J. C. Bonnett of the 6th.

Ortiz said the group inspected various sites available and was agreed to use the 16th Section location in Pearlington for relocation of the Loggova School. Wisdom of that decision earlier had been questioned by Ortiz although Supervisor Dean already had graded it and he opposed a change. In presenting the school resolution Monday, Phillips indicated Dean had been consulted on the plan.

R. G. Hubbard, Jr., of Beat 5, president of the supervisors, expressed some qualms about going

Lads feast on fresh oysters while stranded

Three local youths spent a cold weekend in the Louisiana marshes when their outboard motor failed about a mile and a half from Nine Mile Bayou. Dave Carter, 17, son of Mrs. Odile R. Carter, Steve Church, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Church, and John Bradley, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley, all Bay High students, embarked on a hunting trip Wednesday telling their parents they would be home Saturday or Sunday. But when they failed to return Sunday morning some of the parents became worried and notified the Coast Guard.

Meanwhile, another hunting party composed of Howard Burleigh, John Hayward, Eugene Du-filho and S. J. Broussard saw the boys Sunday afternoon 30 minutes before they were located by the Coast Guard. Burleigh said the lads had made their way across the marshes by foot and pirogue to an old camp on Nine Mile Bayou where they spent the night. The Burleigh party took the boys on board and towed the disabled boat to Bay St. Louis.

The lads said they supplemented their provisions with fresh oysters picked up in the marshes.

spend your money there" under state law, but both he and Seal said they thought the parish would soon have some agency comparable to the coast counties' mosquito control commissions but that such would have to be voted on by the parish.

Hubbard explained that his questions about St. Tammany were due to a long held local belief that much of the local mosquito problem was due to the swarming of mosquitos in the Louisiana marshes when there was a southwest wind. Elmore said that this was possible but his experience indicated that if mosquitos within five miles of populated areas were controlled 50 per cent of the trouble was eliminated.

Elmore, though born in Lafayette County, and trained in entomology at Mississippi State, where he graduated in 1948, comes to his new position from Vero Beach, Fla., where for the past year he has been assistant director of the Indian River, Mosquito Control District and before that was six years with the Chatham County (Sevannah), Ga., mosquito control organization.

Supervisors present for the meeting besides Hubbard were H. G. Dean, Beat 1, and James Necaise, Beat 4, all of whom told Elmore that where possible he could use such of their equipment as he needed for control measures in the county.

checked with a notice of a bond election without determining the necessary millage to carry it and Necaise voiced some skepticism later about additional facilities at Hancock North Central. Only voters residing within the county system will participate in the referendum, as it does not affect the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal District which encompasses Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the so-called outside area.

Gas, data study jobs let

Two more contracts totaling in excess of $2.25 million for construction at MTO were awarded this week and bids will be opened Jan. 7 for another facility expected to cost $4 million, the Corps of Engineers at Mobile announced.

Paul Hardeman, Inc., Stanton, Calif., got a contract for $1,394,000 for construction of a high pressure gas facility to provide high pressure gaseous nitrogen, hydrogen, helium and air for use at MTO. It will consist of a fully equipped compressor building of about 10,000 square feet, a transformer yard and a hydrogen compressor shelter and related pipe system.

C. H. Leavell and Co., and Peter Klevit Sons' Co., were awarded a $931,157 job to build the data acquisition facility which will be the centralized collection point for test data provided by the Saturn V test complex data handling system.

The $4 million contract will be for the construction of an R-1 dock, marine terminal facilities and a booster storage building.

Leavell and Klevit were apparent low bidders Tuesday when bids were opened on the central control building and data handling center. Their price was $1,456,819 against the government estimate of $1,473,076.

ARREST 3 IN BREAK-IN

Three New Orleans Negroes, Dadohillo, Oliver Poindexter and Erlene Lewis, were arrested at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday after breaking in the front door of Demoran's Television Service on Union Street. Police chief Leatham Garriga said the car they were driving, a 1962 Chevrolet, was reported stolen from Baton Rouge, La. Arresting officers were Paul Eglott, Julius Webre and William Carbonnate.

The choir from the Oblate Fathers Seminary at Pine Hills will provide music for the afternoon mass at St. Clare's.

Construction of the sanctuary commenced in September, 1962, to replace the structure first erected in 1919, the entrance having been remodeled in 1957. Seating capacity has been increased from 300 to 800 and the altar and communion rail are of white marble imported from Italy. Richard Mouldous of New Orleans was architect with J. B. Blitch and Associates as associate architects and Quinn Construction Co. was contractor. Central Refrigeration Co. installed the air conditioning.

Rev. John T. O'Brien, pastor, said a final figure on cost of the project is not yet available. Under construction for opening next year is a school and convent on the rear of the program to accommodate eight classrooms.

Contractor personnel at the test site declined again this week with completion of more work but Leavell and Klevit, contractors for the $13 million second state Saturn stand, moved in with clearing operations and lay out work. This is expected to augment the work force shortly.

Hawks trim Tigers

Sustained power paid off for Hancock North Central Tuesday night as the Hawks passed another milestone on their way to what could be their best basketball season since the Necaise boys won the state championship. They soundly trounced Bay High 66-50 in the Hawk gym before a packed house.

The smaller and less experienced Tigers played a bang-up game but had trouble finding the basket and with more experience shooting under fire it might be a different story Jan. 10 when they play a return engagement, this time in the Tigers' back yard.

The Tigers drew first blood early in the first quarter and got off to a 2-0 lead but the Hawks evened it up moments later, then drew away and would not be headed. They scored 19 to Bay High's 11 in the first; in the second both got 12 and it was 31-23, Hawks, at the half. The Tigers couldn't find the bucket in the third and again it was the Hawks on top 17-7 but the Tigers made a last ditch stand and took the fourth 20-18.

Wendell Ladner was high scorer for North Central with 23 followed by Berlin Ladner, who fouled out in the fourth, with 16. For Bay High Ross Maurigi, who also fouled out in the fourth, got 16 and Leroy Luke 11.

The Tigerettes and junior varsity started the evening off in fine style, the girls winning 54-24 and the boys taking the opener 36-34. For Bay High Melva Luke got 25 and Sherlyn Cochran 18, for North Central, Valerie Malley 12 and Joyce Smith 6, Tiger Mike Necaise got 21 and Fred Brelaud 6. For North Central Buford Ladner 12 and Glen Davis 10. Tonight the Hawks travel to Long Beach for a tussle with the Bearcats and next Tuesday the Tigers will make the same trip. Friday, Bay High takes on another foe of long standing when they meet St. Stanislaus in the Pass Christian tournament.

Jones cagers dump Lacombe

Playing like the champions they are, Valena C. Jones opened their basketball season Tuesday night walloping Lacombe, La., 81-56 in a home game. The Tigers are defending South Mississippi Athletic Conference Champions.

The Jones boys had a field day, all five starters hitting in double figures paced by Sullivan Bell with 24, James Fields 19 and Joe Tate 14. The Tigers took the lead early in the first period and had no trouble holding it all the way.

The Jones girls started the ball rolling in the opener polishing off the Lacombe girls to the tune of 50-18. Eva McDermott Price got 8 and Doris Robinson 6. Outstanding on defense were Linda Young, Gladys Mullins, Carolyn Robinson and Darnella Young.

Friday night the lads travel to Biloxi for the first tournament of the year.

Sideline turkey shoot scores 101

James Traylor, Gerald Fayard and Ronnie Artigues were top winners in the Sideline Club sponsored turkey shoot Sunday at Stanislaus Stadium.

In the 22 rifle class Travira and Fayard both got two turkeys. Winning one were John Bortages, Bob Prest, Terry Ladner, Brother Dacian, T. J. Fayard and E. Poolson. Artigues got two in the shotgun class while single winners were Ernest White, Lee Galatas and Sindy Lafontaine.

DENTAL AIDES MEET

Plans for the first annual Christmas party of the Gulf Coast Dental Assistants Society Dec. 18 were completed at a meeting last Wednesday at the Hancock Bank in Mississippi City. Attending from here were Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham, president-elect, Miss Dianne Carr, publicity chairman and Dr. O. J. Mollere.

He is also survived by his wife, four other children and three stepchildren of New Orleans; two sisters, Mrs. L. Benjamin and Mrs. Jessie Patrick; and four brothers, Victor, Ronald, Ralph and Daniel, all of Bay St. Louis.

Burial will be in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Five Bay sailors win in Frosthite

Five Bay St. Louis sailors won trophies in the annual Frosthite Regatta at Pass Christian Yacht Club last weekend in a 25-30 knot wind.

Placing first, second and third in the GP 14 class were Basil Kennedy, Susan Clark and Bill Pitcairn, all of Bay St. Louis. Chuck Breth and J. W. Edmonds placed one-two in the Sunfish class and Billy Egan was third in Windmills.

Commodore Perry Brown of the Pass Yacht Club presented the trophies following the races, in which 72 boats took part.

Just about everyone we've talked to reports a "nice but quiet" Thanksgiving celebrated with a traditional family dinner featuring turkey and the usual trimmings. The weather, for the benefit of our out-of-town readers, was just about as miserable as our weather ever gets... chilly, rainy and gloomy but the weather man relented and produced cloudless, if slightly blustery, skies for the remainder of the holiday weekend.

Visiting for Thanksgiving

Marius and Bert Lodner entertained their respective parents, the Leonard Lodners and Garfield Lodners at dinner in their new Mississippi City home.

Geri and Sam Blanchard had as guests Gerri's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Spell of Vidalia, La., and Gerri's brother, "Bubba", wife Margie and children.

Belle and Charlie Peterson welcomed daughter Margie, son-in-law, Jimmy and children Weldon, Ronnie Paul and Jeannie Wright of Houston, Tex. for a brief visit.

Gladys and Harry Baxner met their charming new daughter-in-law for the first time when she and Harry, Jr., arrived for a Thanksgiving visit. Harry, Jr. is in the U.S. Diplomatic Service and his bride is connected with the Central Intelligence Agency... they've travelled to all sorts of exciting and exotic places.

A large group including Margie and Jimmie, Gladys and the young

Horrell-Smith nuptial plans

Miss Joe Ann Smith and her fiancé, A. William Horrell of Jackson, have completed plans for their wedding which will be on a Saturday at 11 a.m. at St. Clare's Catholic Church, Waveland.

Miss Pamela Smith will be her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Edward Cheahard of Gulfport will be matron of honor.

William Gilbert Ray of Jackson will be best man while Walter G. Johnson, also of Jackson, will be groomsmen. Ushering will be Rick Padilla of Gulfport and Steven Johnson of Jackson.

Baxners, Belle Peterson, Helen, Grace, Lionel, Wilfred and Ray Baxners and Elaine Davis spent a bone chilling, losing day at the Fairgrounds Friday. As far as we can ascertain, Wilfred was the only winner. He hit the daily double.

Gertrude Perry has purchased a brand new white automobile which will certainly compliment her lovely hair.

In Canadian plane crash

Four Waveland residents were shocked and saddened by the tragic crash of the Canadian Airliner last week. Fran and Bob Lucas and Ann and Dix Ashman all had personal friends among the 118 killed in the accident.

Julia and Clarence Devalleigh, a couple we haven't seen in quite a while, spent the weekend in their summer home.

It was good to receive a card from one of our most faithful correspondents, Hazel (Mrs. Charles) Dahlin. She wrote from Baton Rouge, but expects to be in Waveland soon.

We sort of hate to relate this tale as it's bound to make all other bachelors jealous and tempt a few husbands to shoot their wives. Buddy Hava has just returned from a vacation that makes ordinary trips sound just too prosaic for words. He, five other men and 31 women were aboard the largest sailing yacht in the world... the Americana, on a leisurely cruise to the Bahamas. The food was fabulous, the women all beautiful and numerous episodes kept the venture quite exciting. One incident had them a bit unnerved as the generator went out... no lights, no motor and no wind for the sails. They went up distress signals and their first would-be rescuer turned out to be a Cuban fisherman who "no speak a de English", shortly thereafter a larger boat approached, lent them a battery enabling the ship to make the nearest port.

Heptings holiday hosts

Peggy and Floyd Hepting hosted one of the largest and liveliest parties seen in these parts in quite a while Saturday night. We met a large number of out-of-town guests but had forgotten the usual little notebook—however just a partial list of those from here attending will fill up quite a lot of space. Some eating delicious turkey, Swedish meat balls with delicious sauce, finger sandwiches and all kinds of interesting hors d'oeuvres were the R. A. Steinmeyers, their lovely visiting daughter Kathy and husband, Mike; Pat and John Bartram, Laurie and Dave Poindexter, Yvonne and Jack Humphreys and Yvonne's mother, Yvonne, Sr.; June and Jim Thomas-Hall, Barbara and Bert Quigley, Rosemary and Leroy McFarland, Winnie and Jack Holm, Bernice Flink, Gerri and Sam Blanchard, Kate and Roy Saux, Matt and Ruth Ballatin, Johnnie and Bob Akers, Lil and Charles Kolmbach and Betty and Gerald Kennedy.

Roy Saux is most enthusiastic over his new job... he's travelling all over the country selling advertising. He returned from a two week trip to Dayton, Ohio, last week. Wife Kate is feeling almost like herself once again after waging a battle with a siege of low blood pressure and almost complete exhaustion.

sixth birthday

A blue and white color scheme was carried out in decorations. The table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a large white cake trimmed in blue and topped with three ballerina dolls dressed in blue and six blue candles.

Games were played and prizes were captured by Clarence Piazza, Valerie Ferguson and Patsy Lucas.

Attending were Adele's teacher, Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte, and classmates Virginia and Valerie Ferguson, Jack Carter, John Morano, Clarence Piazza, Kim Ann Holmes, and her sister and brother Kathy and Charles Olt.

Wavelanders tell daughter's troth

Mr. and Mrs. Edward John Trasher of Waveland announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia Gloria Trasher, to Bruce Wayne Flegenschue, of New Orleans, son of Mrs. Emilio Gilkers and the late Mr. Van Louis Flegenschue.

The wedding will take place on Dec. 28 at St. Cecilia's Catholic Church in New Orleans.

most as far as Christmas is concerned. . . she not only has most of her shopping completed, but achieved this feat on her recent trip to Mexico City.

Shirley (Mrs. C. J.) Piazza really has more than her share of troubles. . . the children have suffered from a number of ailments including broken bones, cuts and high fevers in the past few months. . . now she's hospitalized in Hancock General.

St. Clare's will hold formal dedication services of the lovely new church at 4 p.m. Sunday. Bishop Gerow will be here.

Getting old

Birthday greetings are in order for Gerald Gex. . . he cut his cake at a family party Wednesday, Nov. 27; to our poor little husband, who due to depleted finances received, a small bottle of shaving lotion Thanksgiving day, the 28th, and to Shirley (Mrs. Roland) La Fontaine - hers was Saturday, Nov. 30.

As we're passing out such little messages we'll congratulate Nancy and Lucien Gex. . . they celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Friday.

Get well wishes go to Cecile Turcotte, who has been under the weather and to Myrtle (Mrs. Wesley) Haas - Myrtle and all five children were bedded with a pesky virus.

Guessing game

Just about everyone is aware of the identity of "the mad lover of Washington Street", but the question of the moment is, who is his latest conquest? And he insists it isn't the letter writing Mable who spells her name just that way!

A reminder to parents of bay-Central school children. . . the P-TA meets in Bay High auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Little Karen Fayard, Linda and Dickie's year old baby, had a narrow escape last Friday. . . she drank part of a can of Urano. . . after having her tummy pumped at the hospital, she's now recovering from burns around her right eye, arm and legs.

Margie and Sidney Woods had as Thanksgiving weekend guests Margie's niece, Mrs. Vincent Lyons and Mr. Lyons of Mobile, Ala., and a nephew, Melvin Borsage, who arrived with the news he'd made the Dean's List at the University of Alabama.

They're biting

The wind shift late Thursday had all local trout fishermen out bright and early Friday a.m. . . their efforts were amply rewarded. . . the specs were almost leaping out of Bayou Caddy and a number of fishermen reported good catches casting off the banks. A bit of hunting advice for wives. . . if you can't lick them, join them. . . your husbands that is, and Doris Lodner is doing just that. . . she purchased a brand new shotgun and plans to accompany husband Raymond on any future hunting trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Gerstner arrived for the weekend, but we're sorry to report they won't be spending many more weekends here—they've put Gerstner's Villa on the market.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - a solitary duck paddling confidently along the seawall, almost as if he knew he had one day until the season opened, stark tree branches, almost indecently bare, reaching skyward and the honking of wild geese as they fly over in their precise formations seeking yet warmer climes.

Rock cagers open Friday in Pass tourney

St. Stanislaus basketballers will open their season Friday evening in the Pass Christian tournament against their traditional foe, Bay High's Tigers.

A new coach has taken over the Rockcagers. He is Harriman Morgan who was assistant basketball coach at Redemptionist High in New Orleans, one of the city's top schools. Bay High coach Wilmer Seymour came here in 1959.

Starting line-up for the Rockcagers will be Dominick (Moe) Scaffidi at center; Waymon Carr and Curtis Motherne, forwards; Cricket Bradford and Ned Heath, guards. Only man missing is Nodie Luder who graduated.

Seymour has a young team and has not dabbled on a starting combination, trying different combinations each game.

Other teams participating in the tournament are Pass Christian, Long Beach and Chalmette La.

CHRISTMAS EARLY!

Teen Times

Members of the younger set enjoyed a rash of get-togethers during Thanksgiving holidays and many of the more far sighted took advantage of the vacation from school to get in a bit of early Christmas shopping. Just a few seen buying gifts Friday were Ann Bryant, Nita Kay Erwin, Edith Traub, Mildred Parker and Carol Western.

There's the usual air of anticipation surrounding seniors breathlessly awaiting arrival of their rings. St. Joseph and Stanislaus students will undoubtedly be displaying theirs shortly. . . Hope Bay High twelfth graders won't have to "sweat it out" as they did last year. . . the prized bits of jewelry came in on Dec. 21, just as school was closing for Christmas holidays.

Before passing on what bits of news we've scrounged around and dug up, it's time for the bi-yearly lecture. . . our reporters are slipping again. . . to date only Steve Wyatt, Rocks Roar author, remains faithful. . . let's hear from some more of our little helpers!

If anyone notices a familiar face gracing Baptist Hospital's student nurse brochures, you'll recognize Lynn Rose as the model. Lynn attended the Ole Miss game Saturday.

Get well wishes go to Carolyn Damians who missed coming home for the holidays due to the fact that she was hospitalized in New Orleans. She required surgery for a slipped disc. November just isn't one of Caroline's better months. . . she underwent an appendectomy at just about the same time last year.

Jane Walker was a welcome Thanksgiving holiday visitor to the Bay.

Happy birthday greetings go to Jimmy Ladner who was 14 Sunday, Dec. 1.

Buddie Wilson stationed with the U. S. Marine Corps in San Diego, will fly home for Christmas.

Mary Lee Garcia, a member of Pearl River Junior College dramatic club cast when they recently presented Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, spent the holidays in Birmingham, Ala. Other local boys and girls taking part in the production included Betty Smith, set decoration; Irene Thomas, (she was also elected membership chairman of the Newman Club) and Bill Jennings, scenery and Linda Mazarakis, costume design.

Other Bay area students at P.R.C. distinguishing themselves include Bobby Van Calsem and Waldo Carceres starred on the Wildcats Mississippi Junior College championship football team, Richard Schaefer plays guard on the basketball team and Jimmy Giametta was chosen reporter for the French club.

Linda McCulloch has been awarded a $100 scholarship to Millsaps College on the basis of Capdepon is cited for Vietnam duty

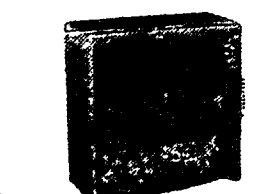

Staff Sgt. Henry P. Capdepon, Jr., whose parents reside in Bay St. Louis, received a meritorious award for his performance on temporary duty with a Marine helicopter squadron in Vietnam when he returned to his home post in Korea.

The citation by Lt. Col. Frank A. Sheek, helicopter squadron commander, stated Capdepon "in a most commendable manner" and displayed "exceptional skill and devotion to duty, reflecting the highest qualities of a staff sergeant-commissioned officer." He is an aviation engineering clerk.
